Flowers for Algernon

This is a different kind of play, with a different type of staging. The play is romantic, funny and tragic - almost pathetically so, but yet there is hope for the "not to be conquered" spirit of man. The play is performed in the theatre in the round style. The roles are all unusual and challenging, as it should be for advanced acting students, and the role of Charlie is an actor's dream that won Cliff Robertson the Academy Award for his performance in the distinguished film version "charlie".

Graduation is a special important time for each Senior. Special because each Senior is graduating with memories of his school years and is wondering about his future with some apprehension. Special to each parent because he has waited patiently, he long for this day. Perhaps a Senior does not realize how a parent feels about Graduation Day. Just remember that a parent running down to the platform camera in hand, to take pictures of his graduating Senior. That is how special. Parents feel Graduation is important, a Senior has culminated twelve years of education, experiences, and preparations to be ready and waiting for a good future.
